82% of respondents recalled hearing or seeing something about the WBG in the last 30 days. Respondents from the private sector were the most likely to recall something (100%) whereas respondents from civil society were significantly less likely to do so (60%).

Climate Change Communications can be More Impactful when Related to Stakeholders' Top Concern: Diminished Water Supply

About three-quarters of respondents were very concerned about diminished water supply for people and the economy when it comes to the potential impacts of climate change in STP. Unsafe drinking water as well as increasing erosion of shoreline were also of great concern to respondents. These key areas of concern should be taken into consideration to make communications about climate change more impactful in STP.

Message Recall Leads to More Positive Perceptions of the WBG

Respondents who recalled seeing or hearing something about the WBG in the last 30 days gave higher ratings on all key messages regarding the WBG's work.

Respondents who recalled seeing or hearing something about the WBG recently also reported significantly higher levels of familiarity with the WBG's work (mean=5.6 vs 4.3 of those who do not recall WBG-related messages).

In addition, respondents who recalled WBG-related messages gave significantly higher ratings for the WBG's effectiveness (mean=6.5), relevance (mean=7.0), alignment (mean=6.7), and influence (mean=7.2) compared to those who reported not hearing or seeing anything about the WBG recently (means=4.9, 5.6, 4.6, and 6.0, respectively).

Detailed Methodology

From April 2023 to May 2023, a total of 243 stakeholders of the WBG in STP were invited to provide their opinions about the WBG’s work in the country by participating in a Country Opinion Survey (COS). Participants were drawn from the Office of the President, Prime Minister, Minister, Office of a member of the National Assembly, Government Institutions, Local Governments, Bilateral/ Multilateral Agencies, Private Sector, Civil Society, Academia, and the Media.

A total of 202 stakeholders participated in the survey (83% response rate). Respondents received the questionnaires via courier and returned them accordingly or they completed the questionnaires online.

The results of this year’s survey were compared to the FY19 COS Survey with a response rate of 95% (N=334).

Comparing responses across Country Surveys reflects changes in attitudes over time, but also changes in respondent samples, changes in methodology, and changes to the survey instrument itself. To reduce the influence of the latter factor, only those questions with similar response scales/options were analyzed. This year’s survey saw an increased outreach to and/or response from government principals and bilateral / multilateral agencies, but decreased responses from government institutions, civil society, and the private sector. These differences in stakeholder composition between the two years should be taken into consideration when interpreting the results of the past-year comparison analyses.

Key statistically significant findings (tested at the research standard of $p < .05$) are noted throughout the report.

Breakdowns for individual questions by stakeholder group can be found in the “São Tomé and Príncipe COS FY23 Appendices with data breakdowns.xlsx” file published in the WBG Microdata Library, along with the survey microdata and this report.
